51-000 CORPSES

In the 18 months that ended June 30, 1935 51,000 persons met death in motor crashes in this country. More than 1,300,000 were injured.

The bare statistics, thought provoking as they are, cannot give an adequate picture of the horror of major automobile accidents. Figures cannot express broken bones, mangled bodies, crushed skulls, obliterated features, decapitated bodies, and all the rest of the results of fatal motor crashes. Nor can figures picture the tragedy of penniless and broken hearted dependents of the victims of recklessly driven cars.

Passing on hills and curves may save you a minute or two; weaving through traffic and taking other chances may gain you a moment you really don't need;—or it may mean A CRUSHED BODY ON THE PAVEMENT, ITS BONES TWISTED AND BROKEN, ITS EYES STARING AND SIGHTLESS.

It's up to YOU, to everyone who drives a car.

THE STORY OF JOE AND JOHN AND HERB

This is the story of the adventures of three upstanding American citizens under the New Deal—Joe Green, John Corntassel and Herbert Hoover.

Consider Joe Green— that isn't his real name, but he is a real person. Joe is a skilled mechanic. He is employed by the International Harvester Co. He helps make machinery that John Corntassel uses in his business. But back in 1932, when low prices put John out of the machinery market, Joe was automatically laid off and ceased to be an economic unit.

He managed to squeak through, however, because the company loaned him money against the day of returning prosperity, and he was handy at odd jobs. Today Joe is back in the fighting, working five and a half days a week at good pay.

Which brings us to John Corntassel. You remember him. He's the fellow who, as the story goes, was paid for loafing and plowing under things. But it now appears that his row struck something yellow and exceedingly beautiful. Anyway, the newspapers have discovered that publishers are inviting national advertisers to come out and get some of the money through the use of papers that farmers read.

Farm Comment, Wall Street Nation, Now Opening Up Vast Rich Markets," is the pleasant headline that graces the front page of Editor & Publisher, national newspaper trade journal, in a report on the vote of John, his tall corn, fat hogs, owing to his new pocketbook.

The present fact is that the farm population, comprising a third of the whole, is now prepared to welcome buyers and sellers.

Although Mr. Hearst is personally shrieking to high heaven against the New Deal, a writer in his Omaha paper, the Bee News, happily informs us that, a deg by $40,000,000 corn-hog AAA reduction fees, a golden stream of buying power" is blessing John in Nebraska. "New automobiles and trucks dash along the highways," he reports. Farm machinery sales have advanced and all products have wider and surer markets.

So it goes. From all over the broad, fat land the story of John's gold strike is reported. "Farmers of Indiana, using black ink! gain $100,000,000!" Implement dealers and manufacturers report nearly 100 per cent increase, in September, about half the business has chin up.

Kentucky, Illinois, Kansas jubilant as farmers harvest good crops." Southwest in spirited recovery. Livestock now selling at a profit" So much for John.

Now let's turn to the happiest story of all—the one about Herbert Hoover. It appears that while Mr. Hoover is publicity and politically viewing with alarm, privately he is getting it on the New Deal's prosperity ground floor. According to John F. Pickett, editor of the Pacific Rural Press, Mr. Hoover and his son, Allan, are among the largest investors in farm land.

"The smart money men feel," says Pickett, "that farm land is the soundest investment of all... and they are encouraged by the fact that agriculture has made the best recovery of any major industry and has a cheerful outlook ahead."

So it seems that things are looking up for Joe and looking up for Joe and John and Herb. Joe has a job making implements for John. John, in turn, Herb is getting in on the "smart money." We're all feeling better. What could be nicer?

Back To Gettysburg

The Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans have approved the proposal for a joint reunion in 1938 at the scene of the Battl, of Gettysburg. Once these men met there a deadly conflict. Now they will be there, is peace ang goodwill.

The trouble about it, perhaps, is that by 1938 there lwill only a corporal's guard alle t, get back to Gettysburg If the spirit of reconciliation could be developed in the peoples of the, world who have and have had different interests, it might be a different and a much friendlier old world.

Fast drivers are the ones who are the biggest brags about how few accidents they have.

Tobacco Outlook Encouraging

Most of Crop in Appomattox Had Been Harvested Before Recent Rains

Hird it not been for the heavy downpours of rain virtually every day since last year's dark tobacco crop was ripening, the crop was destined to be one of the finest in recent seasons.

Nevertheless, farm experts say that prospects are not bad at all and that local farmers may expect a fair price this season.

Appomattox county was fortunate in that a good percentage, possibly 75 per cent, of the leaf was harvested before the recent heavy rain. Other counties in the area, not so lucky, with th, exception of Charlotte, which a large per cent had cut tobacco, ...ity, their tobacco crop ... severed the corn, you're leaf ... account of the extreme dampness. The striking upthing is that they will still be plenty of high quality, even after the crop ends when the time comes to take it to market.

The Lynchburg markets will open on November 4 and Farmville markets one day later. Federal reports say that 14,850,000 pounds of dark tobacco will be produced this year. This estimate, made the first of September, is about half a million pounds higher that that of August.

The fine art of curing tobacco hinges around getting the leaves to ... to a uniform color. It is said ... that perhaps because of the ... weather many fine solid red and brown colors are appearing.

Another portion of the crop ... since the storm will supply ... the largest share of the low grade to ... and reserve the pair down, the average price.

Tobacco Festival

Parade With Fifty Floats To Be Staged At Festival Today

South Boston is about the busiest place in Virginia this week end. It is the scene of the first Southside Tobacco Festival, which opened yesterday, September 26 and will continue today and tomorrow.

17,000 seats are provided in the huge, outdoor amphitheatre to take care of the throngs. The feature ice festival is the parade showing the history of tobacco. It will consist of 50 floats and a cast of 700 performs in the pageant.

The first tobacco queen, Miss Willie Mae Graham, daughter of U. S. senator and Mrs. Harry Flood Byrd, will be crowned tonight at the opening ceremonies and attendant festivities will be held this afternoon, which will be one of the outstanding events of the festival.

Over the largest warehouses in South Boston has been secured for the festival dances. Tonight Little Jack Little and his orchestra will play for the dance.

How To Go Broke Farming

1. Grow only one crop.
2. Keep no livestock.
3. Regard chickens and a garden as nuisances.
4. Take everything from the soil and return nothing.
5. Regard gullies as things that must be and don't grow cover crops.

The August gasoline tax in ...inia totaled $1,566,239.48, which ... he largest total for a single mo... since the gas tax went into effect ... ...ack in 1922.

Gas tax receipts in the state are ...ar in excess of last year so far ... Prospects are for the collections from this source to equal fifteen million dollars for the current fiscal year. However, the state highway ...partment points out that the increased revenue is needed to maintain the roads. Increased tax receipts means increased use of the roads, and that means more cost for maintainance.

The boost in tax receipts from gasoline is held to mean better economic conditions all over the state.

From all sections of Virginia come reports of more cars on the roads, with people having more money to spend for travel.

The motor vehicle fees are also far ahead of last year.

Sheritts Meet

An appeal for rigid enforcement of traffic laws in order to reduce accidents marked the close of the annual meeting of the Virginia sheriff's Association in Lexington last Saturday.

A request was also made to the state for more short wave radio broadcast service to aid the rural officers.

Farmville was selected as the meeting place for next year.

J. Preston Adams, of Wise county, was named president of the association.

How your MONEY
WORKS FOR YOU IN A
Checking Account

When you put your money in a savings account you get interest on it. In a checking account you get service for it—and let the bank earn the interest. In return for this interest the bank gives you privileges worth far more to you than the interest itself.

When you maintain a balance commensurate with your use of your checking account privileges, the bank will be reimbursed for the expense of serving you. Otherwise, the bank may properly look to you to meet this expense.

Money in a checking account is an investment that pays you real dividends.

Frock Keeps Matron Looking "Just Right"

PATTERN 2335

Looking just right about the house, and neatly tailored enough for street or porch appearance, is no trick at all for the handy woman who knows how to run up a seam! The clever matron likes the extra formality the flattering revers lend the house frock. The pleated sleeve—besides being flattering—allows for plenty of action and the paneled skirt with its roomy pockets has a way with it, if the hips are just a bit too generous! A neat pin-stripe cotton or tailored geometric design would be excellent. An eyelet batiste makes a lovely street dress.

Pattern 2335 is available in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 36 takes 4¼ yards 39-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

SEND FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address, and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Address all orders to the Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Mislaid

"What became of the boss who used to lay down the law?"

"He overworked," said Senator Sorghum. "He laid down laws so promiscuously that a state of confusion resulted. We've got to organize search parties to find any laws at all."
